SPECIFICATIONS ™

STANDARDIZE, OPTIMIZE, LEVERAGE CONSISTENT SPECIFICATION FORMS

Achieve Quality Instrument Specification Forms

Beaconsuite™ Specifications is key to efficiently standardizing SmartPlant® Instrument Specification (Datasheet) forms.

Leverage information from within SPI to optimize your facility by extracting data across all Instrument Specifications Forms / commodity types in one shot e.g. Instrument Accuracy; are you over reporting measured process conditions?

Safely normalize the database fields within the Instrument Specification Forms. Optimize the forms, reducing variances and maximizing reporting.

BENEFITS

Reduces effort / time / costs associated with filling in normalized Instrument Specifications (Datasheets)

Operations, maintenance, project designers all benefit from having quality, consistent Instrument Specifications across several SPI databases

Promotes better quality data by enabling SmartPlant ® Administrators to normalize field usage on Instrument Specifications

Locates, and exports data stored across all Instrument Specification forms based on field headers versus actual field names (User Defined Fields (UDFs))

FEATURES

Compares Instrument Specification Forms in use across two different SPI domains / databases

Compares and aligns Instrument Specification Form Data Dictionary (field mappings) across two different SPI domains

Safely migrates data between SPI data fields, warning if the targeted field already has data or is incompatible
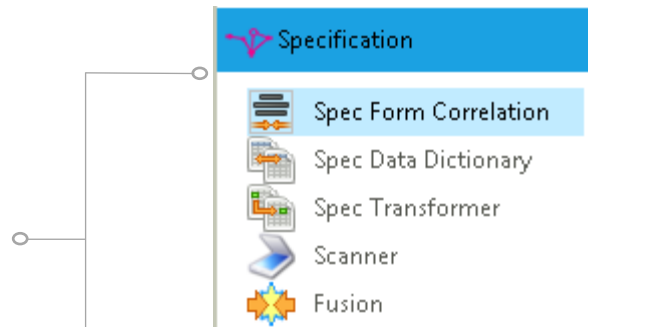

Scans Instrument Specification Forms based on either a field header search or a field name search

Enables users to export data across all Instrument Specification Forms for specific fields based on search parameters e.g. Instrument Accuracy
